MASONIC TEMPLE—HELLER'S SOIRIE.—Heller had a large, a very large, probably the largest audience he has had in Louisville, last evening. The Sclavonic individual, uncalled by any epi-thet of Father, King, Hamlet, or Royal Dane, rose to propound ventriloquism as an explana-tion of the marvel of Second Sight. The Selavonic race never had much ingenuity, and our obstinate friend of last evening forms no exception. Ten minutes sufficed to show the fallacy of the theory. The Fair-Second Day.

We regret that our notice of the Fair yester-day must be brief, in consequence of the press f very important news, since finer stock was never shown than yesterday on the Fair Grounds to the thousands who were present.
The ring for "harness stallions" was superb, were John Burks' Green Mountain Morgan who was decidedly the most stylish animal in the ring; John Henry, known as a racer of speed; Gold Dust, a Morgan; Edward Everett, High-land Messenger; Humboldt, by Green Mountain Morgan, and worthy of his sire, as the sequel proved, and others of size, power, and style. The crowd were satisfied, before the decision was rendered, that the contest was between John Henry and Green Mountain Morgan, but the judges knew differently. The blue ribbon was finally knotted on D. M. Kelley's Humboldt. He is a sorrel, and bears a decided resemblance to his sire, Green Mountain Morgan, who added, on this occasion, the red ribbon to his countless prizes. The other rings for stallions were full, and excited much interest. The ring for mares, four years old and over, brought together eigh teen as fine harness mares as were ever collected open to the public at 3 o'clock, and it was thronged to the close of the exhibition for the day. With its fruits, flowers, and exotics the air was redolent with sweet odors, and Floral Hall seemed like to a fairy garden. There are manythings in this department deserving special notice, but our limited space forbids it this morning. The premium of $100, for ornamental display of flowers and plants, arranged as a tablaux, was awarded to Moret & Bro., flor-

THAT MULE RACE. At 4 o'clock it was announced in the ring that the mules would race on the track. There was a general stampede for position to get a good view of that unique affair. Three mules ere on the track with their riders mounted .-One was a light dun, aged 28 years; another, dapple, rejoiced in the name of Squat, and wa about as large as a big dog; the third was black, and every inch a mule. Maj. Alfred Allen was the senior judge, assisted by Judge Hunter of Alabama, Col. Foley of Louisiana, and Col. John T. Gray of Kentucky. To Maj. Allen was assigned the important duty of instructing the riders. Our stenographic reporter was fortunately there, and it enables us to give the Major's arge verbatim. We publish it for the benef of those who may judge hereafter. Here it is "You will mount; spur your proud steeds, and ride in blood—and may the best mule win!" Cheers.] A few minutes delay was necessary or the senior judge to recover the exhaustion onsequent upon this noble effort, and then the rum tapped. The mules were off, and so was the rider of the black at the first turn, for the wicked animal pitched him over his head, but the others went on. The rider remounted and rode gallantly on, as did Thackeray's Col. Thomas Newcome in those twenty battles. The dap-Amphitheater, but the dun soon locked him. The excitement which had been great waxed hotter as the black mule neared the stable at the te rific pace of about a mile an hour. As the slow est was to win, the hearts of those who had be gainst the black sunk with fear-for the mul olted and broke for the stable. In vair pur, to move him. There he stuck, until both of the others passed half around the track in he second half mile. The black at this tim apparently relented, for he permitted a man to lead him down the stretch. But when he go to the crowd, he stopped again, and backing u gainst a post stuck fast, regardless of the ap he crowd. The other mules made the mile is the meantime, so, of course, the black mule won; for was it not writ, "the first shall be last, that, although the mile had not been gone, ye as he had all the week to go it in, he was ent tled to the purse. We give a summary: FAIR GROUNDS RACE COURSE—SEPT. 5th, 1860 PURSE OF $30 FOR THE SLOWEST MULE—ON PURSE OUT.

JAIL DELIVERY.—Last week at Madison, Ark., he prisoners, some fifteen in number, confined n one cell, made a bold attempt to escape, and hree of them succeeded.

HON, J. C. BRECKINRIDGE. Delivered at Lexington, Kentucky,

At twenty minutes after 11 o'clock, Mr.

Breckinridge arose and said:

I beg you, my neighbors, friends, and old constituents, to be assured that I feel profoundly grateful for the cordial welcome you have extended to me. The circumstances under which I appear before you are novel and musual. I do it in obedience to the request of friends whose intelligence I have been accustomed to observe, and if it be an uncommon thing for a person in my position to address assemblies of people, I can only say I hope to discuss topics in a manner not altegether unworthy the attitude which I occupy. I shall certainly indulge in no language which in my opinion will fall below the dignity of political discussion. The condition of my health and my position make it impossible that I can extend my voice over this vast assembly, but I trust I will become stronger as I proceed.

I have been asked, fellow-citizens, to speak at my own home because I and the political organization with which I am connected have been assailed in an unusual manner and charged with treason to my own country. I appear before you to-day for the purpose, first of repelling certain accusations which have been made against me personally and industriously through other States of the Union, and next to show that the principles upon which I stand are the principles of both the Constitution and Union of our country. [Great applause.] And surely, if at any time a justification could be found by any man for addressing the people in the position which I occupy, it will be found in my case.—Anonymous writers and wandering orators have chosen to tell the people that I, individually, am a disunionist and a traitor to my country; and they declare, and with assurance affirm, that I have exhibited a treason that makes, by comparison with it, Burra patriot, and the memory of Arnoid respectable; but, fellow-citizens, before I come to those topics, I desire to make and prove a comprehensive statements I regard to my position in connection with the Presidency of the United States. I have been charged with a premature clarations were concerned, I united cordially in presenting him for the suffrages of the American people, thought at no time, in or out of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, did 1 act or utter a word which would bring my name in conflict with his or any other eminent American citizen who desliced or whose friends desired for him that position; and, if you take the trouble to review the proceedings of the Charleston Convention, you will remember when I received the vote of Arkansas, one of my friends arose and withdrew my name, declaring that I would not allow my name to come in opposition to this gentleman before the convention, and when the convention assembled at Baltimore, my feelings and my conduct were still unchanged. After the disruption which took place there, my name, without any solicitation on my part, was sugested. Not deeming such a thing possible, I said I did not desire to be presented to the American people, but I am content with the honors which have been heaped upon me by my State and my country, and I look forward with pleasure to the prospect I have of serving my country in the Senate of the United States for the next six years. My name, however, was presented, and I felt I could not refuse to accept the nomination under the circumstances without abandoning vital principles and betraying my friends.

It is said that I was not regularly nominated.

The wounds were considered trifling, but they soon commenced swelling and became painful. The sufferings of the child were terrible, and continued so until death relieved it, as above stated. The dog at the time and since has given no indications af hydrophobia.

TRAGICAL RESULT OF A DREAM.—David Thorn, residing at Princeton, N. J., fell from the window of his room, a few nights since, upon the ground beneath, and died from his injuries a few days after. honorable friend in whose grounds we are met. I can only say that the Convention which assembled at the Front-Street Theater, in my judgment, was devoid not only of the spirit of justice but the forms of regularity. [Cheers.] The gentleman whom it presented nover received the vote required by the rules of Democratic organizations. Whole States were excluded and disfranchised in that Convention, not to speak of individuals. The most flagrant acts of injustice were perpetrated for the purpose of forcing a particular dogma upon the Democratic organization and the gentleman who is the representative of that dogma—of principles which I will be able to show repugnant alike to reason and the Constitution.

Owing to the impropriety of those proceedings a decided majority of the delegates from your own State withdrew from the Convention, declaring that it was not a National Convention of the real Democratic organization, and nearly the entire delegations from the fifteen Southern States, and from California and Oregon, with large majorities from other States, making in whole or in part delegations from almost two-thirds of the States of the Confederacy, represented at a National Democratic Convenion, depending upon the authority and loyalty of the Democratic party.

But after all the great question is, what are

John?"]

I believe it has been published inalmost every Southern newspaper of the Opposition party, that I signed a petition for the pardon of John Brown, the Harper's Ferry murderer and traitor. This is wholly entrue. So much for that.—
[Cries of "Good?"]

It has been extensively charged and circulated that I was in favor of the election of Gen. Taylor to the Presidency, and opposed to the election of Cass and Butler. This, also, is wholly untrue. In the year 1847 there was a meeting in the city of Lexington, in which I participated, by which General Taylor was reconnuended for the Presidency of the United States. A difference of opinion existed at that time, as to the political sentiments of that distinguished gentleman. I was assured, upon grounds satisfactory to me, that they coincided with my own political opinions, and I united in the meeting. Pretty soon alterward I went to Mexico. When I returned twelve months afterward, in 1848, I found the campaign in full blast, with Taylor for the Whigs, and Cass and Butler in nomination by the National Democracy. It is well known to thousands of those within the sound of my voice, that as soon as I returned home, I took the stump in behalf of the Democracy and maintained its doctrines to the best of my ability, [a voice—"All right,"] and I was not atraid todoit, because they were the representatives of my principles, and you may judge of my zeal, asone of thoose gentlemen was my old commander and my friend. It was said that I was not present and did not vote at the election at Lexington in 1848, and that is true, but with that has goon the

he canvass, but it was not by my vote.
You all know at that time, as a citizen. I could vote anywhere in the State, which was be fore the revision and adoption of our present Constitution, but it so happened that there were six or eight gentlemen who accompanies me, all of them belonging to the Whig party A Woman Theratens to Horsewhip and Shoot an Editor. Mrs. Lookins was arrested in Norfolk, Va., for having demanded the retraction, by Jon. R. Hathaway, editor of the Day Book, of a local article about her in that paper; and, failing to get it, having placed a loaded pistol to his head and drawn a cowhide out of her pocket. This conduct seems to have been taken very coolly by the editor; but a policeman, less gallant, took the offending fair one into custody. She was held to bail in $500 not to treat editors so any more.

Nelson Butler, and George P. Jewett.

Another charge has been extensively circulated throughout the Southern States. It asserts that I was an emancipationist in 1849, or at least, voted for an emancipationist at some time. [Mr. B. read an extract from a letter from Hon. Geo. Robertson, published in a Southern paper, having reference to his position on this question and alluding to his private affairs, and commented on it at some length, and with much severity. I come to the fact. The only time I know that the question of emancipation was ever raised in

I am represent dto this day as having said I would make a difference between one of my own religious belief, and between an unnaturalized and naturalized citizen. I would make a positical difference. I never uttered such a sentiament. [Applause.] The underlying principle with me was this: that the condition of citizenship being once obtained, no question of birth or religion should be allowed to commingle with political considerations. [Applause.] I deem it only necessary to make these statements here, succinctly, and pass on, because I am speaking to assembled thousands who know this injustice.

Mr. Douglas and his friends held that the Territorial Legislature did have the power. We suspended that question and re-ferred it by sbill to the Supreme Court of the United States, to determine the Constitutional point, and I make it to show that there was a vow taken by the Southern friends of the measure in Congress, and among then, a vow taken by your humble speaker, to support the decision. [Mr. B. here read some extracts from his speech delivered in the House of Rtpretentatives in 1854.] V.e were willing, he continued, to have the question decided by the Courts of the United States. Again, I say it is contended on the one hand upon the idea of the equality of the States under the Constitution and their common property in the Territories, that the citizens of the slaveholding States may remove to the Territories with their slaves, and there legally hold them until the Territory is resolved into a State, and in that capacity exclude them. Mark you, this was before the Presidential election of 1856, Mr. Breckinridge then read from an editorial in the Statesman of October 1856, in which it was stated that during his tour through Indiana and Ohio, he Mr. Breckinridge, avowed the sentiments he had often proclaimed in Kentucky which are clearly embodied in the Cheinnati Platform—that he denied that the Democratic party, was, in its Federal relations, a pro-slavery party—that it was neither such a party nor an

On the 2d day of July, 1856, in debate upon a bill to authorize the people of Kansas to form a Constitution preparatory to admission into the Union as a State, when the question arose as to what was the true meaning of the Kansas-Ne-braska Bill, and the Ilmitation of the power of the Territorial Government, Mr. Trumbull offered the following amendment; as an addition.

Mr. Breckinridge continued. On the 15th of May last in the Senate, Mr. Douglas said—[here Mr. B. read from Douglas' speech an extract concluding with the assertion—"We agreed to refer it to the judiciary. We agreed to abide by their decision."] I think I have shown that upon the point of dispute between the friends of the Kansas bill as to the power of a Territorial Legislature to exclude slave property, it was agreed to refer it to the Supreme Court, and when it had been judicially determined, we should abide

These principles are taken almost verbatim from the opinion of the Supreme Court. They are supported by the precedents and practice of the Government. They are principles upon which we may well live and by which we may well be willing to die. (Cheers.) They are vital, important, and they concern the rights of person and property. They cannot be abstract, minute, or unimportant. They concern the honor, equally, of the States. What has been the position of Kentucky upon that platform? The candidates for Governor of this State, last year, both held that Territorial Legislatures have no power to exclude our slave property, and each both held that Territorial Legislatures have no power to exclude our slave property, and each contended that every department of Government must protect it when it became necessary. Mr. Joshua E. Bell, I believe, went a step further, by thinking the time had nowarrived when the Government should interfere. Your Conventions indorsed these principles, and the Senate and Commonwealth of Kentucky, by the unanimous vote of both parties, indorsed them as being constitutional and true, by the following resolution, which I must read, it is so apt, so pertinent, so conclusive:

That is, word for word, the opinion of the Supreme Court and the resolution of the National Democratic Convention, on which I stand to-day. Both parties in Kentucky at the polls, and by unanimous votes in the Legislature, have declared that their principles are those of the Constitution. I might pause here, but in support of these principles I want the authority of Mr. Crittenden himself. [Applause.]

Whatever doubts he may have as to my fidelity to the Constitution and Union, I do not hesitate to say that that eminent gentleman is devoted to the Union. I do not believe that he would advocate principles which he believed were unconstitutional or calculated to destroy the union of this country, and if I can have his sanction and indorsement for the principles I advocate, it will go a great way in proving that they are constitutional and not disunion.

[Mr. B. read the third, fourthand fifth of Davis' resolutions, and referred to Mr. Crittenden's vote for them, and said:] There, I have the vote of my distinguished friend, declaring that these exclude it, and Mr. C. says nothing can strike him as more inconsistent and contradictory than to say that while you may go there, there is somebody stronger or mightier than the Constitution which can take away that which the constitution which can take away that which the constitution says you may hole and enjoy. Just what Mr. Doughas asserts, and which, if not recognised, he will rend and destroy as he goes. [Applause.] I derive some satisfaction from the fact that the Hon. John J. Crittenden, whose name and authority will go far in this Umon, has declared in the Senate and recognised by his oath as Senator, the principles upon which we stand, as the principles of the Constitution. [Cheers.]

I cannot enlarge. I appeal to you if I have not, with reasonable certainty, I may say, conclusively repelled the accusations against me; if I have not shown that it is neither I nor the party which nominated me, but Mr. Doughas, who has broken faith; that by agreement, at the time of the passage of the Kansas-Nebraska Bill, the Constitutional point was to be left to the Supreme Court sustained our construction of the Canstitution? Have I not shown that the Supreme Court sustained our construction of the Canstitution? Have I not shown that the agreement thus made has been violated by the declaration that a subordinate authority may deny the constitutional right, and exclude slave property when the Court says that it has not that power? Who has abandoned the ground or violated the agreement? I have shown that the principles upon which we stand have been endorsed and sanctioned by the declaration that a subordinate authority may deny the constitutional right, and exclude slave property when the Court says that it has not that power? Who has abandoned the ground or violated the agreement? I have shown that the principles upon which we stand have been endorsed and sanctioned by the declaration of ever intelligent man. I have tried to do it by legitmate facts and arguments. I am not conscious of having appealed to any prejudi files from the delegations of other States of the Union. Senators and members of the House of Representatives from both sections of the Union, who have filled the highest stations in public councils, but have now withdrawn from public life, all concur in declaring that these are the principles of the constitution, and they are not afraid to execute them. [Cheers.]

Gentlemen, the charge of disunion is baseless. Advantage has been taken of the cordial loyalty of the people of Kentucky and equality, to the surprise and elight of the gentlemen who engaged in it. The scheme took better than they expected, but I am satisfied that the sober second thought of the people will recall them to the assertion of these principles. Kentucky will never abandon a principle which she has declared to be a principle of the Constitution and the Union. [Loud applause.]

I will not answer the newspaper accusations that this gentleman and the other gentleman, who has held extreme opinions, support me. Gentlemen of far more extreme opinions support both the other candidates. What if A., E., C. and D., whose opinions you do not like, think better of a certain set of principles than they do of a certain other set of principles, or of naprinciples at all, choose to vote for us? Are you going to put the stigma of disunion upon haif the Empire. There are disunionists all over the country, working to overthrow the Union. They are those who deny Constitutional rights, who are engaged to day in trampling under foothe plainest rights guaranteed to us by the Constitution.

Douglas on Bargain and Sale. It is now known to the whole country that Douglas and his men have refused in every instance any fusion with the BRECKINRIDGE wing of the Democracy. It is equally as well known that in all the Southern as well as Northern States, the leaders of the DougLAS and BELL parties are on the best of terms, and have no entroversy and no collision on the stump or in the State to Lincoln! They are not exhorted to

The Journal supposes Douglas is next strongest to LINCOLN, and the effort is to transfer BELL's stock in Indiana to Douglas, for Douglas' stock in Kentucky or elsewhere in the South. It does not require more than half an eye to see that ing the voters to execute the nefarious sale. Will the rank and file here ratify the bargain? Are Kentuckians, who have prided themselves upon their life-long Democracy, ready to be transferred into the embraces of their old political Know Nothing foes? Such as can be cajoled all the way into a vote for BELL will be put through on the Bell ticket. The more wary portion who are not prepared for a full change all at once, will hang at the half way point, and vote the Douglas ticket.

DougLas is skillful in proposing bargains, if he could only have them executed. He tried to sell out the Democracy to the North. He proposed that the Northern people should have all the Territories, if they would make him President. That he would sacrifice all the interests of the Southern people in the Territo rles and turn it over to the North by means of his Squatter Sovereignty dodge, if they would support him; but he was unfortunate in getting

They Keep Going!

It will be remembered that at the last State convention in this city, of the Opposition-Union-Know Nothing party, the principal speaker was Gen. S. F. Carry, the distinguished temperance lecturer, of Ohio. The Journal published his speech in full, and-went into cestacies over it. Such a glorious, cloquent, is to our graye! We shall nave been devoured by worms and cracking reptiles! We veheate Democratic party, and for us at this late hour to prove recreant in the hour of danger, and support Stephen A. Douglas for the Presidency, would be an unblushing sin and shanne—would haunt us to our graye! stacies over it. Such a glorious, eloquent, Union-saving effort was never before made .-LINCOLN. In a speech before a Republican convention at Cincinnati, on Saturday last, he gave in his adhesion to Lincoln, and in the course of his remarks, said:

That it was known that he had been an ardent That it was known that he had been an attend the fillmore man. He had been and was an admirer of John Bell. If he lived in Kentucky he would vote for him. "But why not vote for him here," It is asked? Why! because I might just as well open a glowing stove and stick my ballot into the fire, and stay at home, as to rote for Bell in Ohio, and I am determined to beat this infernal Locofoco party, if I can.

And to beat this "infernal Locofoco party."

LINCOLN, and aids in the defeat of the "infernal Locofoco party." which is the only and last hope of the country and the Union.

Hon. J. S. Chrisman.

We are requested to say that this gallant and able Democrat, who was so unrighteously cheated out of the seat in Congress to which the peo ple had elected him, will meet Hon. W. C. AN-DERSON at all his appointments. We hope the people will turn out in their strength to witness the manner in which Mr. CHRISMAN will skin his Black Republican opponent, who has the impudence to hold up his shameless head before honest Kentuckians.

The Douglas Squatters of Cincinnati held conventions on Tuesday night for the nomination of candidates for Congress and county officers. The meetings were characterised by tumult and fighting, and rowdy ism of the most disgraceful character—eminently charac-teristic of the reckless and abandoned men who have Douglas' interest in keeping. Even the Cincinnati Enquirer, debased as it is, expresses its "mortification" at the "disgraceful scenes," and says that they "beggar description." When the people find out what Douglasism really is, decent people won't touch it with a forty feet

A correspondent informs us that Hon. J. S. ISMAN met Dr. D. P. WHITB and J. F. BUL LITT at Somerset on the 30th of August, and effectually demolished these Squatters in debate.

Mr. Chrisman sustained himself, while the Douglasites scarcely did themselves justice. Their trip to Pulaski didn't pay well, as that county will give BRECKINRIDGE and LANE a larger majority than it has ever yet given the Democratic ticket. With Dr. WHITH, speaking is an up-hill business. He has proved treacherous to he has always heretofore advocated, and he evidently feels sensibly the unfortunate position in

Hon. JOHN W. REID, of Mo., is for Douglas .-The Westport (Mo.) Border Star says that REID is not a DougLas man, and that he cannot be bullied or wheedled into the support of the 'Little Giant' and his Yankee platform."

In reply to an invitation of the Ohio Democratic Executive Committee, Hon. W. L. YANCEY says, in a lengthy letter, that it is out of his power to speak at Cincinnati. We will endeavor, in a few days, to find room for his able and patriotic letter.

From Missouri, The Westport Border Star, edited by our old friend, McCarry, whilom of the Bardstown (Ky.)

Gazette, thus refers to Missouri politics: During the progress of the mass meeting at Independence last Saturday, various Democrats, who had been counted on the Douglas side, came forward and enrolled themselves as members of the Breckinridge and Lanc organization.

Every member of the old Executive Committee rave in ble sheets.

A gentleman from Fort Osage stated on that occasion that he knew of but three Douglas men in his township, whilst another stated that there was but one Douglas man in Van Buren there was but one Douglas man in Van Buren township.

Our letters from various portions of the county are cheering to the cause of the true States Rights Democracy. Many of our correspondents speak of the changes from the cause of Douglas to that of Breckinridge, as the evidences thicken on every hand that a further persistance in supporting a third ticket (Douglasism) will inure to the benefit of Bell and Everett, and will throw our gallant county into the arms of the pseudo Union party—the very same party,

Fate of the Douglasites.

We have before remarked, says the Concord (N. H.) Standard, that the present time would prove to be the crisis of the fate of many poliians. that the Douglas faction is sectional, there can be no doubt whatever. It is as sec tional as that of the Black Republicans. And the politicians who lead their Democratic fol lowers into this pit of sectionalism, now yawning to receive them, will have a fearful account to render on the reorganization of the Democratic party of the Union. There will be no redemption for them. Thus the most sagacious of the opponents of the Democratic party view it. "Per-Boston Journal, in a recent letter to that paper

The honest Democrats who may "go in" and The honest Democrats who may "go in" and support Douglas, will find that they are in a harder place to get out of, so far as Southern favor is concerned, than was the cave of Cyclops to Ulysses and his followers. The "Little Giant's" friendship will prove more deadly to them than was the hospitality extended in fairyland to "Young America," who climbed up the bean-stalk. Sharp eyes will watch their movements, and they will not be permitted to come out unscathed. Like the fox when invited to the hospitalities of the lion's den, they will be sure to observe that whilst the guests invited to that friendly retreat may be tracked in, they are never tracked out; and, like that same fox, they will respond to the kind invitation, "Quid me vestigia terrant omnia te absersam spectantia nulla retrersum." Hon. J. C. Mason-An Incident. The Frankfort Yeoman revives an incident o the canvass of 1859, as reported at the time in the columns of the Louisville Journal, by one of the correspondents of that paper. Of course, the editor of the Yeoman does not say the reported conversation between himself and Maj. Mason ever occurred, and the latter will not deny it, as we have the best reason in the world to believe. The reference to the gallant and consistent Major's "mild and courteous style of

he Journal of May 19, 1859, and let it go for what it's worth:

Among the number of distinguished strangers in our midst, is the Hon. John C. Mason, of Eath, who is interested in an important suit. Of course his presence excited some attention among the "unterrined." The "Central Clique" became curious to know his views "a nefereace to the question of slavery in the Territories. Well, they got a chance to know his views. The editor of the Yeoman and two other Democratic leaders, one of whom was a member of the State Central Committee, had an interview on yesterday with Mr. Mason.

Mr. Mason denounced in the bitterest terms the doctrine that Congress should not interfere with slavery in the Territories; that the idea that the course could give "adequate protection" was a humber and declasion. The Yeoman man and his two colleagues remonstrated. They endeavored to explain and "soften down matters;" but Mason couldn't be reconciled. to BELL for BELL's interest in the North, and the leaders on each side are hard at work coax-

He was incorrigible, and he said that if they came into his country and advocated any such d—d Abolition doctrine, that Congress should not interfere to protect the rights of slaveholders in the Territories, they would be beat all to h—!!. He deemed the non-protection movement in Kentucky as an attempt to sell Southernrights for Northern Abolition votes in the Presidential contest, and for one he was unalterably anosed to it.

his Squatter Sovereignty dodge, if they would support him; but he was unfortunate in getting the Democracy to ratify the bargain. The true Democracy had some old fashioned notions about the equality of the States, that they thought more of than they did of DOUGLAS, and consequently they repudiated DOUGLAS, bargain.

It is to be hoped the voters of Kentucky have not forgotten the wily tricks of some of these political leaders in 1855, when they were attempted to be sold to Know Nothingism, under pretext that the country was in danger of being taken by the Pope of Rome. The pretext now is, that it is in danger from a man who lives in Alabama by the name of Yancey.

They Keep Going!

[From the Franklin (Ky.) Banner.]

FALSE Report.—Some "Shanghai" Douglas and in: The true editor of the Southern Democratic Banner, are almost persuated to side with Mr. Douglas and his "Squatter Sovereignty" views. We denounce such a charge; it is false. It has been not good fortune to battle against the Little Glant ever since July, 1857, and it is our intention to war against him until the sun shall set behind the Western hills on the day of election in November. When the moon is turned to blood and the sun refuse to give light; when heaven is converted into a place for the refuge of scoundrels, and hell is regenerated and disenting the western hills of the well, in all probability, entertain a very faint idea of supporting Mr. Douglas, after our body shall have been devoured by worms and cracking reptiles!

Mr. Bell to Take the Stump. In reference to the premature assertion of the Louisville Journal that Mr. Bell will not take

Why! because I might just as well open a glowing stove and stick my bailot into the fire, and stay at home, as to vote for Bell in Ohio, and I am determined to beat this infernal Locofoco party, if I can.

And, to beat this "infernal Locofoco party," this pink of Ohio Know Nothingism goes for Lincoln, whose election, the Journal assures us, from day to day, will ruin the country, if it does not dissolve the Union! But Gen. Carry is only doing directly what the Journal is doing indirectly. Every vote given for Bell or Douglas, in the South, helps and encourages the contracterize the statement as false and slanderous. The Journal is a degree too rapid. We have the best reason to believe that John Bell is contemplating that very movement. He said to a friend a very few days ago, that if Mr. Breckinridge makes speeches he will follow the cample. The Journal ought to be better posted before it uses language so strong. It cannot well take back all it has said, but will have it to do.

Practical Squatter Sovereignty. The Douglas correspondent of a Douglas newspaper—"Occasional," of Forney's Press thus complimentarily alludes to a noted Black Republican, Hon. Eli Thayer, who was one of the originators of the Emigrant-Aid-Society try is Eli Thayer, of Massachusetts. He is a practical popular-sovereignty man, and was a delegate to the National Convention which nom-inated Abraham Lincoln.

THE LAST DOUGLASITE DISCOVERY .- The De. troit Tribune says Gen. ORVILLE CLARK, a most dogmatic Douglasite of that city, in a speech on Friday evening, made the following remarkable statement:

The principle of self-government is one dear to every American. In devotion to it was this country settled. Our forefathers left a land of tyranny and, oppression, for one where they could have a church without a bishop—a government without a king; where the people should be their own bishops and their own kings. They settled on the bleak shores of the Atlantic in a land without laws, and solemyly resolved that they would be governed by the laps of God until they had time to make better ones!

New and Dangerous Counterfeit Bills.
On Saturday evening, and immediately at the close of the banking hours, there began an extensive circulation of ingeniously executed counterfeit five dollar bills on the Bank of Mississippi, and fives on the Pittsfield Bank, Illinois. Several bankers were temporarily deceived by the specimen first named. Yesterday, tradesmen and merchants were congratulating each other in all directions on the beautiful "counterfeit presentment" with which they had been sold. During Saturday night, three persons were arrested for "shoving off" the trash, and another, Win. Wilson, was taken in custody yesterday.—[St. Louis Democrat, 4th.

Teacher calls up big boy on suspicion. Big boy comes up and holds out his hand, sullen and savage. Noble little boy comes manfully forward and savs, "I'm the boy that whistled, sir," at the same time extending his hand. Teacher simmers down and lets them both off. Anecdote of Old Ironsides.

The following is familiar to many of our readers, but it is so well calculated to make the rising generation proud of the noble spirits who shed so much luster on their country's name during the memorable war of 1812, with the then proud mistress of the seas, that it will bear republication at least once a year, as long as patriots are able to subdue conspirators:

The most brilliant naval action of the last war was undoubtedly that of the American frigate Constitution (44), commanded by Commodore Stewart, when she captured the two British corvettes, Cyane and Levant, of greatly superior force, each of them being equal to the old-fashioned thirty-three gun frigates. The handling of the American frigate was throughout scientific and unexceptionable.

By no maneuvering could either of the British vessels obtain a position to rake the Constitution. Shift their ground as they would, old Ironsides was between them, blazing away upon both vessels at the same time. During the whole action, Stewart, instead of mounting the horse-block, sat in a more exposed position astride the hammock nettings, the better to observe the maneuvering of his antagonists. The Cyane was the first to strike to Brother Jona than—not an unusual thing with British vessels during that war. The first lieutenant came in haste to the Cemmodore to announce the fact.

"The starboard ship has struck, sir," said the officer.

"I knew it, sir," replied the Commodore. MARSHALL & DICKINSON'S.

Great Men who Rose from the Ranks.

Great Men who Rose from the Ranks.

From the barber shop rose Sir Richard Ark wright, the inventor of the spinning jenny, and the founder of the cotton manufacture of Great Britain; Lord Tenterden, one of the most distinguished of English lord chief justices; and Turner, the very greatest of landscape painters No one knows to a certainty what Shakspeare was; but it is unquestionable that he sprung from a very humble rank. The common class of day laborers have given us Brindley, the engineer; Cook, the navigator; and Burns, the poet. Masons and bricklayers boast of Ben Jonson, who worked at the building of Lincoln's Inn, with a trowel in his hand and a book in his pocket; Edwards and Telford, the engineers; flugh Miller, the goologist, and Allan Cunninghan, the writer and scuptor; whilstamong distinguished carpenters, we find the names of Inigo Jones; the architect; Harrison, the chronometer maker; John Hunter, the physiologist; Romney and Opie, painters; Professor Lee, the Orientalist; Bacon, the sculptor; the two Milners, Adam Walker, John Foster, Wilson, the orientalist; Bacon, the sculptor; the two Milners, Adam Walker, John Foster, Wilson, the orientalist; Bacon, the sculptor; the insistonary traveler, and Tannahill, the poet. Shoemakers have given us Sturgeon, the electrician; Samuel Drew, the essayist: Gifford, the editor of the Quarterly Review; Bloomfield, the poet; and William Carey, the missionary; whilst Morrison, another laborious missionary; was a maker of shoe lasts. Within the last year, a profound naturalist has been discovered in the person of a shoemaker, at Banff, named Thomas Edwards, who, while maintaining himself by his trade, has devoted his leisure to the study of natural science in all its branches, his researches in connection with the smaller crustacea having been rewarded by the discovery of a new species, to which the name of Praniza Edeardsii has been given by

Nor have the tailors been altogether undistinguished—Jackson, the painter, having worked at that trade until he reached manhood. But what is, perhaps, more remarkable, one of the gallantest of British scamen, Admiral Hobson; who broke the boom at Vigo in 1702, originally belonged to this calling. He was working as a tailor's apprentice near Bon-church, in the Isle of Wight, when the news flew through the village that asquadron of men-of-war were sailing off the island. He sprang from the shop-board, and ran down with his comrades to the beach to see the glorious sight. The tailor-boy was suddenly inflamed with the ambition to be a sailor, and springing into a boat, he rowed off to the squadron, gained the Admiral's ship, and was accepted as a volunteer. Years after, he returned to his native village, full of honors, and dined off bacon and eggs in the cottage where had worked as a tailor's apprentice. Cardinal Wolsey, DeFoe, Akenside, and Kirke White, were the sons ofbutchers; Bunyan was a tinker, and Joseph Laneaster a basket-maker. Among the great names identified with the invention of the steam engine, are those of Newcomen, Watt and Stevenson; the first a blacksmith, the second a maker of mathematical instruments, and the third an engine fireman. Dr. Hutton, the geologist, and Bewick, the father of wood curaving, were coal miners; Dodsley was footman, and Holcroft a groom. Buffin, the navigator, was a common scannan, and Sir Cloudesly Shovel a cabin boy. Herschel played the obe in the military band. Chantrey was ajourneyman printer, and Sir Thomas Lawrence the son of a tavern-keeper.

ng ago Sir Roderiek Murchison discovered, at nurso, in the far north of Scotland, a profound cologist, in the person of a baker there, named lobert Dick. When Sir Roderick called upon im at the bake-house, in which he baked and arned his bread, Dick delineated to him, by seams of flour upon a board, the geographical eatures and geological phenomena of his native ountry, pointing out the imperfections in the xisting maps, which he had ascertained by traviling over the country in his leisure hours. On arther inquiry, Sir Roderick ascertained that he humble individual before him was not only a apital baker and geologist, but a first rate botalist. "I found," said the director general of the icographical Society, "to my great humiliation, hat this baker knew infinitely more of botanial science, ay, ten times more, than I did; and hat there were only some twenty or thirty pecimens of flowers which he had collected, ome he had obtained as presents, some he had our chased; but the greater portion had been accumulated by his industry, in his native county of Caithness, and the specimens were all aranged in the most beautiful order, with their clentific names affixed."—[Seif Help by Sametel.

Punishment of Crimnals.

Anecdote of Old Ironsides.

MRS. WINSLOW. A Philadelphia paper describes two inco igible convicts at present confined in the enitentiary at that city, and the system of penitentiary at that city, and the system of punishment which prevails in that institution: The famous criminal bath was then exhibited. In a cell at the eastern end of the corridor, ap-propriated for females, stood something like a wooden chimney vertically against the wall. Closer inspection revealed a door in its front, with staple and padlock. This being thrown open, an apartment, just large enough to con-tain a human body, was revealed, with one of the round perforated bath eisterns in the top. The door and sides are hollow, and stuffed with wool to prevent screams from being heard.

is forced into the apartment, the door closed upon him, and the staple secured by a heavy padlock. Then, in the darkness and siding air, the unhappy criminal feels the rush of descending water. It comes in a torrent upon his uncovered head, and seems to be beating upon his brain. In vain does he seek to avoid the draught. He cannot turn. His breath grows short. Every nerve is unstrung. His heart beats agonizingly. He sereams, but the wails are deaf and there is no reply. He is suffocating—dying. And when sense is swimming and life flickering, the door is opened, the unhappy man removed, and the dying pulses taught to beat again. Sometimes the criminals when removed are black in the face, the blood flooding the head. A man in Sing Sing prison hately expired under the punishment. The shower-bath at Moyamensing has been used three times in seven years. Its effects are to shock the nevrous system and weaken the entire body. One woman was lately put to the bath test. She is known as Jenny Lind, and designated by one of the wardens as the most abandoned woman in beyond all reformation. She seems, at times, to be possessed with a demon. On Wednesday, she leaped upon Mr. Sargent, the warden of the female department, and for his mouth in a most savage manner. The assault was entirely unprovoked. She is said to be very deceptive. She was placed in the shower-bath for an exhibition of heirous wickedness, and at the end of ten minutes' punishment, asked if she would behave. She said, with an oath, that she would not, and demanded to be punished again. The bath was again applied—but she was still incorrigible. When brought forth again she was almost lifeless, and but for the application of prompt restoratives, would have been no longer a trouble to the authorities. We were shown some specimens of her handlerafts, in a mass of broken stools, crockery, &c. She is, doubtless, a dangerous character. Two other women of exceeding bad repute were exhibited. One of them, known as Mag Warner, is the victim of intoxication. During th BULLOCK & CO., General Insurance Agents.

THE RIVER was slowly falling yesterday, with four feet eight inches water in the canal by the mark, at dark. During the previous twenty-four hours the river had only fallen one inch at the head of the falls The weather was very warm all day, with indications of rain at noon.

At Cincinnati, at noon yesterday, the river was r ported to be slowly swelling, but by the officers of the mail boat, we learn that a good rise was expected, as the boats in from above report a rise of three feet in Boats from below, last evening, report the river swelling as far down as Henderson, with over eight feet water at Flint Island, and four and a half feet at Caseyville and Cumberland.

Richardson, who is a punc-tual boatman, will depart at the hour, as he is bound to leave New Orleans to-morrow week. The boat takes no freight, and will loose no time on the way. She is one of the best boats ever built for the South, and travelers on her will meet with every attention and comfort. ANNUAL REVIEW COMMERCE OF LOUISVILLE FROM

September 1, 1859, to September 1, 1860

WEDNESDAY EVENING, Sept. 5, 1860 In accordance with our usual custom, we present in the present weekly report the yearly summary of the receipts, trade, and commerce of the city, to gether with the ruling prices current during the year. Owing to the absence of a regularly organized charbon of Commerce of Manches (Commerce of Manches) Chamber of Commerce, or Merchants' Exchange, a well as the indifference of the merchants in furnis ing statistics, and other causes, our report is necessarily short and imperfect. We have, however, accurrately compiled list of the imports by the riv and several of the railroads during the past year full summary of the Pork and Toba two of the heaviest interests of the city. The man ufacturing interests have been steadily increasing with no decline in any branch heretofore established but the successful introduction of many new branches, which will be further increased by the su cessful operation of the water works, which have been delayed by the continued high stage of the river which has prevented the introduction of the "inle pipe" from the bed of the river. Our statistics of receipts over the Nashville Railroad are incomplete, owing to the incapacity of the managers to furnish hat they have been unable to keep posted.

In regard to receipts and the crops we will prem with the remark that a large number of Hogs are be ng received over the Nashville Railroad from the Corn is abundant and unininred by the drout railed in other districts. That will cut off he receipts by the Nashville road in the win though we anticipate the packing season around the falls to be very heavy, as the Provision trade here has largely increased, and dealers are freely offering the highest prices for fat Hogs, for November and December delivery. The Grain crops of the country, in the aggregate, have been abundant, especially in the Northwestern States. It is estimated that in Michigan the yield of Wheat was 20 bushels to the acre. In North Illinois it is said that 25 bushels to the acre have been harvested, while the Corn crop is abundant beyond precedent. Wisconsin puts down her harvest at 28 bushels as a fair average, and clain an equal prolific result for other grains. Kansas, of all the Northwest, witnesses a failure in harvests.

The result is favorable from all the old grain growing States, even New England producing of product usually grown more than an average amount.

The grain crops in the South and West, coming t an earlier period in the summer than those of the North, were good, even averaging a fair product in Texas, which has been the greatest sufferer this year by the unprecedented drouth. The Chicago Press and Tribune estimates the yield of Wheat the pressent year at the following figures: Illinois, 26,000,000 bushels; Indiana, 18,000,000; Wisconsin, 17,000,000; Iowa, 14,000,000; Minnesota, 5,000,000; Michigan, 8 000,000; Ohio, 25,000,000. The Corn crop of Illinois facts present evidences of new energy and activity in the West even though prices fall.

The staples of the South do not show so favorable will reach a fair average; but drought and early frosts may cut is down to the short crop of last season.

Annexed are the entire and accurate receipts of a prospect. The unusual drouth has seriously dan aged cotton, corn, cane and hemp, while the rice fields are not so promising as usual. But it is not probable that the crop will fall so far short of pro vious years as many now anticipate. The yield of sugar, as the growth of the cane is confined to a nar-row section, will be small. The disasters to one tract of cane are likely to be felt wherever the crop is culivated. But it is different with cotton. Its cultiv tion is extended over so large a tract of country that adverse meteorological changes cannot be expect to be felt by the whole region. The different character of the soil on which the plant is cultivated so cures large crops in some portions of the country. whatever may be the nature of the season, provided

The late rains begin to affect the nature of the ports from the country. In Texas we are told the cotton crop promises now to be better than was an cipated. We are nearly a month in advance in the harvest over previous years. With a late frost the loss in the early growth of the plant will be in part remedied, and it is not impossible that the longer period which the planter has for gathering his crop will produce better handling and higher grades for all that he sends to market. Even in Georgia the crops are resuscitated, and orders for Corn and Flour for that region are beginning to be remanded.

of cotton, and the stock on hand at New Orleans an NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 31-P. M. Cotton firm: sales to-day of 2,600 bales; Orleans middling 10% 2016, s. Sales of the week 8,000 bales. Receipts last week 14250 bales against 5000 bales last year. Exports 1,000 bales. Total 2,214,000 bales. Receipts ahead of last year 74,000 bales. Receipts at all Southern ports ahead of last year 74,500 bales. Stock at New Orleans 65,500. Receipts of new crop 1 to bales against 88 lales last year.

Memphis, August 31.

The trade of the city has visible increased during The trade of the city has visible increased during the year, with a very large excess in Provisions and Tobacco, the aggregate of the former exceeding ten million of dollars, while the aggregate amount of capital invested in all the manufacturing and mercantile interest has amounted to fully $50,000,000.— We know of several enterprising firms in the tobacco and computation trade who have increased their has and commission trade who have increased their busness from $300,000 to over $500,000 per annum. The number of boats built and inspected during the year has amounted to 34, at a cost of $1,200,900. Without further remarks we subjoin our comparative tables of imports, and the enumeration of the leading ar-

ALCOHOL.-The trade has been steady during the year, with a demand for fully 50 per cent, over the supply of the manufatory in the city, the sales amounting to about 20,000 bbls. Owing to the advance in whisky, prices have advanced to 40@41 cts. for 76 per cent. proof. Last year, the quotations at the close were 48@50 cts.

BAGGING, ROPE, AND HEMP.—The trade has een steady, and prices, owing to the very large crop f cotton, have been materially advanced during the year. The receipts of bagging and rope have not been as heavy as heretofore, owing to the increased number and facilities of the city factories, which con-sume annually 4,500 tons of hemp. We quote the latter at $125 to $130 per ton. The sales of Louis-wille made bagging and rope amount to $700,000 an-nually, and if we add to this the amount sold here and manufatured elsewhere, will find that the business in this line will amount to $1.500,000. Sales of bagging at 14 to 15% cts. for hand power loom bagging, and 714 to 814 cts. for common hand to extra machine rope. The factory of A. L. Shotwell & Son has been in operation nearly a year, which consumes 20 tons of hemp per week, manufacturing 115 pieces bagging and 150 coils rope per week.

Annexed are the receipts of the year, together with the receipts of the three previous years, and the actual stock on hand to-day:

been materially increased this year, with nearly double the receipts of cotton, one firm alone making the following exhibit. Their entire receipts of cotton were 8,620 bales, which was disposed of by the sale of 2,200 bales to Kentucky manufacturers, some 6,000 bales sold to Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Indiana manu-facturers, and 420 bales shipped East. In addition to the cotton and cordage factories in the city, we must add the product of the Cannellton (Indiana) Cotton Mill, one of the largest and most successful in the West, which annually consumes up-wards of 4,000 bales of cotton. All of this is converted into sheeting and batting, manufactured expressly for this market, and sold exclusively by our merchants, adding 4,500,000 yards of sheeting and 10,000 bales of batting to our imports and trade. amount of business in Flour has been much larger amount of outliers in Frouries and four has been finish market, and this season several marchants made their purchases in this market, who have hitherto gone to other points. The demand for flour by parties in Georgia and Alabama has been so large that our deal ers and millers have not been able to fill the orders as fast as they poured in upon them. The sales during the past two months have avaraged over 1,000 harrels daily, the greater portion of which was shipped to Georgia. There are some nine mills in this city, which have a capacity of turning out nearly 460,000 bbls during the year. In addition to this, the product of some fifteen or twenty country mills is sold in this market, which, together with other sources, makes Louisville a very extensive and increasing market. The grain market during the year has taken a new turn. In the first part of the year the prices of grain in the Eastern market were such as to induce millers and dealers to look in that direction for an outlet for the surplus of this region; con-sequently a large amount of grain was shipped to that market, and it was not until some time in Feb

he demand. The stock in this market was nearly exhausted, and during the balance of the season prices of wheat here ruled relatively 5 to 15c per bushel above New York quotations. Since the opening of the grain trade this fall the demand from Geogia and Alabama has been such as to use all the surplus in

In addition to this, a large amount of grain has been purchased and sold by Louisville merchants, which has never touched the Louisville wharf, but ich has all been sold on Louisville orders. The receipts and sales of only one house in this city on the river bank below here, amounted to 185,000 bushnearly all of which was shipped to Cincinnati and n markets. In addition to this, the receipts of grain by wagon here amounted to about 22,500 bags of corn and 17,500 bushels of wheat. There is a large thern demand here for wheat, and this season our ts will find an outlet to the South instead of

The trade is on the constant increase, and during the coming year we should not be surprised if it would double the immense amount of trade done the past year. There are a number of Georgia and Alabama ut have since found that Louisville is the best ma ket to obtain good grain, at reasonoble prices, and all who have yet visited this market agree in saying that they find everything as represented by our dealers.— The sales of flour and all kinds of grain have been large, at the following quotations: Superfine flour $4 75@$5 25, single extra at $5 25@$550, and double extra family at $5 75@$6. Wheat, on the first $1 @$1 15. Corn 55@65c. Oats scarce at 37@40c We subjoin the receipts of flour during the year by he list. They have been so rushed with business river and railroad

This is over 16,000,000 pounds of sugar sold annually in this market, which if all allowed for home consumption, would allow each individually inhabitant at least seven pounds per day. Our merchants do a large business outside in supplying points North and East. This year a large amount of sugar has been sold from this city to supply Cincinnati. The following were the quota ons on the 1st of September: New Orleans sugar o 9%c; Porto Rico 8%c; molasses 41 to 43c; refined sugar 10½ to 11½; Rio coffee 15½ to 16½c; rice firm at 5½c. PROVISIONS, LARD AND HOGS—There has been several changes in the market for these staples. At this time last year the market was dull, with light sales of Mess Pork at $13 75@$14. Now it is very firm at $20. The stock of Bacon on hand is light nounting to 1,375 casks of all kinds. There is large demand here for Bacon to fill Southern orders, and, with sufficient means of shipping, the stock would not be sufficient to last until hog killing comences. The stock of Bulk meats on hand is 833 000 ands, a portion of which has been sold to be decred as soon as out of smoke. The light stock, to gether with the heavy demand from the South, has caused an increased firmness on the part of holders, and during the past month or two prices have been steadily advancing, the market closing firm and buoyant al 10† for Shoulders, 12½† for Rib Sides, 314¢ for Clear Rib Sides, and 1314¢ for Clear Sides This is an advance on the quotations of last year of 24@3¢ on Shoulders, and 3½¢ on Clear Sides. Last year the stock was very large, and holders were anxious to sell, while this year they seem indisposed to sell. Hams are scarce and firm at 14@14% for plain canvased and sugar cured. Lard is steady, with a fair nguiry at 13%¢. The market for Hogs for packing has been quiet for everal days, but some three weeks since it was very active and excited, and large purchases were mad by Pork packers at $5 00 gross for Kentucky Hogs and $4 50@$4 75 for Indiana Hogs—the difference in price being made to pay the difference in freight.— Now that the packers have got a sufficient number to commence with, and as prices are high, they seem disposed to hold off, and we quote the market nomber delivery. The following is a table of the receipts during the year:

In the above table the Pork and Lard by packers is estimated. The actual weight of the Hogs packed was 48,345,232 pounds. The number of Hogs packed COAL—The trade has been active all the year, with constant receipts from Pittsburg by tow boats alone of upwards of three million bushels, which is but about half the quantity usually consumed in the city. The stocks on hand are ample, and we quote at 9c affoat, and 12½c at retail.

TOBACCO—This is given up to be the very best market in the world for planters to ship their tobac-co to, as they will realize the cash for their crops without any extra charge for commission, storage and

e. We have at present three large wa houses in our city, which are capable of storing 1,500 hogsheads. At each of these houses, there is da auction sales of leaf tobacco to dispose of the receipts These sales are attended by buyers from every place in the Union, as well as those who buy for home man ufacture and foreign shipment. The bidding at thes sales is very lively between manufacturers and others, who daily attend the sales. The crop the last year was rather short, and the receipts, as will be seen by our table, are not as large as last year be some 200 hhds. The receipts last year were ver heavy, being larger than any year since 1852-53, when the sales at the warehouses reached 23,000 hogshead The sales for the past year were 17.357 hhds for which the sum of $1,438,784 was realized, estimating the weight of each hogshead at 1,400 pounds, and the average price at 6c. We think that the hogheads are heavier, but this year the price hardly reached that standard, as the greater portion of the tobacco offered was of an inferior quality, and not such as was in demand by our manufacturers. During the past week or two the cry of short crops has been raised, and prices have advanced fully 15 to 40¢ on the differ ent grades, with a good demand and fair sales at the warehouses. Should the crop this year prove a good one (which we fear), the receipts during the coming season will exceed those of the past year. A large number of farmers on the river below here, who have hitherto sent their tobacco to New Orleans, have d rmined to send it here in the future where they can get the cash for their crops at a little expense, while if they send it to New Orleans it is weeks and some imes months before they can get the money for their rop. The sales of Leaf Tobacco at the warehouse a the 1st of September, 1858, were small at prices anging from $5 05 to $9 00. On the 1st of Se ber, 1859, the sales were 59 hhds, ranging from $2 73 to $12 25. On the 1st of September this year, the ales were 41 hhds at $2 00 to $13 00. The receipt of Tobacco up to the 1st of September were as fol hogsheads inspected and sold at the different was houses for the year ending August 31st, 1860, togeth er with the stock remaining on hand unsold, which shows the direct receipts from all sour Total .... Total last year Total for 1858.

Annexed is a table giving the sales of Leaf Tob the warehouses on the 1st and 15th of each mo or the past year, ending August 31st, 1860:

MANUFACTURED TOBACCO-The trade in Man ufactured Tobacco has been gradually increasing.

There are eight firms engaged in the manufacture of cco, who annually manufacture over 15.000 boxes, which, if sold at $26 per box, would amount to $290,000. Besides the Tobacco manfactured here ere are several firms engaged in the selling of To acco, all of which is imported. The receipts for t east year amounted to 15,667, which at the same price rould amount to $393,322. If these two be added ogether it will be seen that the trade in this line ssiness alone will amount to $783,322, which is arge increase over last year. A large number of anyers have visited this market this year, who have efore gone to other cities. WHISKY-There has been but a fair demand for

Some statement of the statement of th them. The Duke of Newcastle declined to land unless all party demonstrations were withdrawn. The most intense excitement was created, the Orangemen refusing to make concession, and the royal party remaining on board the steamer. Matters seem to be getting beyond the reach of compromise, and it is difficult to say what may be the result.

At 9:30 A. M., the Orangemen, at a meeting, resolved to have a procession. The City Council, which met this morning, passed the following resolution, with which the Mayor proceeded to the steamer: The regular freight and passenger paolet
